LUKE in the SKY

WE ALL LOOK UP AT THE SKY.

And some time ago a man named Luke Howard thought to himself: "Wouldn't it be nice if I named the clouds?"

Mr. Howard was a very smart meteorologist who put a lot of thought into that naming. But that's an incredibly boring story to tell.

Somewhere in an alternative universe, Luke was just a fisherman. He lived on his little boat with his only three friends: a sheep, an always-angry cat and a seagull. With too much time on his hands, he named the clouds and made it his mission to be able to predict the weather just by looking at the sky.

He thought the different type of clouds looked a lot like his three animal friends, so he just named them after them.

Quickly, Luke noticed there were three main types of clouds. The big clouds that looked like cotton balls, or... just like his sheep! Then you had the low-hanging darker clouds that mostly predicted rain or storm. These clouds reminded Luke of his angry cat Stratus. And then of course there were the thin clouds, high up in the sky, like feathers, very similar to the feathers of his bird Cirrus.

CHARACTER LINE UP

Luke spende a lot of time at sea. While he waited for fish to bite, he liked to read books about science and the weather.

THE PANDA

THE DOCTOR

After trying to rip a stick of bamboo from his garden, a panda gets a splinter stuck in his thumb. He heard of a vet that lives downtown, who will definitely be able to help him. Right?

The situation escalates rather quickly as this “vet” seems to be completely incapable and above all insane.
